

Organized by:

Center for Risk Management & Sustainability

Institute of Compliance Professional Indonesia

November 17-23, 2024

LIVE
November 22nd 2024
Live via Zoom

03.30 – 05.30 pm
(Western Indonesian Time)

in English

06
PDU's

08
PSB

ICoPI Coffee Talk

“Seeing the Unseen Enemies: Crucial Role of Whistleblowers in Detecting and Preventing Cyberfraud”

Technology can indeed be a valuable asset to enhance transparency and accountability – ultimately building public trust. Unfortunately, technology is neither inherently bad nor good; neither it is inherently harmful nor helpful. Being merely a tool, its existence has also given birth to an avalanche of cybercrime cases across different countries – breaking through all jurisdictional borders around the world – that are significantly damaging to numerous victims and spurring confusion and distrust among the public.

Being virtually like an unseen enemy floating in the air, cyber criminals are notoriously difficult to track or pin down. Their secrecy is almost always guaranteed by the technology itself that might be originally intended to promote transparency. Since the role of Whistle-blowers has been popularly acknowledged as one of the most effective fraud detection methods, its crucial role in pushing cybersecurity forward must be given more attention and further discussed. Knowing that good-faith whistle-blowers are usually in precarious positions extremely vulnerable to fears, pressures, and even various reprisals, how good-faith whistle-blowers are able to strip off the secrecy of cyber criminals, and yet how they are also able to be sufficiently protected when doing so, should indeed become important topics discussed among anti-fraud fighters around the world.

Welcoming Speech by:

Antonius Alijoyo

Prinsipal
Center for Risk Management and Sustainability
(CRMS)

Coffee Talk Session With:

Esther Roseline

Affiliate Consultant
Institute of Compliance Professional Indonesia
(ICoPI)

Goutama Bachtiar

IT Advisory Director of Grant Thornton Indonesia

Registrastion

Click Here

<https://bit.ly/ICoPI-cofeetalk>

Or Scan

For further information, please contact us:

CRMS secretariat team: secretariat@crmsindonesia.org | +62 811 22 333 075

ICoPI secretariat team: sekretariat@icopi.or.id | +62 811 1111 4771

*Free (without e-certificate) Cost Rp 277.500 for e-certificate issuance www.icopi.or.id

@icopi.official